CLASS ODE

Words by Claire Frances Cyr

Music by Arlene Elizabeth Gerstenberger

With highest hopes, we take our place,
Our banners all unfurled—
Prepared to meet what one must face
In this unsettled world.

We've had our years of pleasantry
At our Alma Mater—
Whose corridors, in memory,
Will echo with our laughter.

Our dreams are bright with eagerness,
Our hopes, to us, so dear—
Our minds are whispering "Success",
Our hearts have sensed no fear.

We pray that when the turmoil's passed
And mankind's hatred spent —
The world that's ours will know at last
What Brotherhood once meant.

Oh may we penetrate the dawn
Of life's eternal plight —
That we may, once more, gaze upon
A future safe and bright.

SINGING—Star Spangled Banner

II. NUMERICAL

(1) BUILDINGS, CLASSROOMS AND TEACHERS

The work of the school had been carried on in twenty-two buildings. Three hundred and four regular classrooms are in use. Eighty-two of these are in the High School, and 222 in the Elementary. At the present writing, (December, 1943) four hundred and fifty-five teachers are employed. Of these, three hundred and ninety-six are employed in the day schools and fifty-nine in the evening schools. Three day school teachers are also employed in the evening schools. There are seventy-eight men teachers among the four hundred and nineteen teachers employed in the day schools.

During the calendar year 1943 the schools were actually in session only 169½ days. Seven school days fell upon legal holidays and 18 other holidays were granted by the vote of the Board (6 of these were rationing days). Five days were omitted because of stormy weather. Out of a year of forty weeks, the schools were actually in session 33.9 weeks.

(3) SCHOOL MEMBERSHIP AND ATTENDANCE

During 1943 there were 9,576 different children enrolled. The average membership for the year was 7,682.47 and the average attendance was 7,897.35. This is a decrease of 356 pupils from last year in the total enrollment.

CLASS ODE

Words by Rita G. LaTulippe

Music by Alphonse M. Tatarunis

With hearts so glad and heads held high,
With smiles that are so gay,
We march onto the road of life.
Oh happy, joyful day!

Who doubts our steady rhythmic step,
Who shadows us with fear?
What care we if the future's dimmed?
That's why today we're here.

Our Flag is great with stars and stripes,
And held aloft by freedom's hand.
We're here to fight; to show the world
No tyrant shall oppress our land.

With memories of youth and home,
And loving thoughts of Lawrence High,
Of teachers, books, and classmates too,
And happy days that have gone by,

We face the future with our lives
Devoted to this land, our sod,
Our hearts attached to Lawrence High,
And all our loving trust in God.

SINGING—Star Spangled Banner

(4) PER CAPITA COST

It cost $128.18 to give a year's schooling to each pupil based on the average membership of the day schools for the year 1944.

II. NUMERICAL

(1) BUILDINGS, CLASSROOMS AND TEACHERS

The work of the school had been carried on in twenty-two buildings. Two hundred and eighty-seven regular classrooms are in use. Eighty-two of these are in the High School, and 205 in the Elementary. At the present writing, (December, 1944) four hundred and fifty-eight teachers are employed. Of these, three hundred and eighty-four are employed in the day schools and sixty-two in the evening schools. Three day school teachers are also employed in the evening schools. There are seventy-three men teachers among the four hundred and nineteen teachers employed in the day schools.

(2) LENGTH OF THE SCHOOL YEAR

During the calendar year 1944 the schools were actually in session only 177 days. Six school days fell upon legal holidays and $10\frac{1}{2}$ other holidays were granted by the vote of the Board. Six and one-half days were omitted because of stormy weather. Out of a year of forty weeks, the schools were actually in session 35 weeks.

(3) SCHOOL MEMBERSHIP AND ATTENDANCE

During 1944 there were 9,163 different children enrolled. The average membership for the year was 8,169.46 and the average attendance was 7,671.69. This is a decrease of 413 pupils from last year in the total enrollment.

There are 7,104 pupils attending school now, a decrease of 348 from last December. The high school numbers 2,190.

The evening high school has 240 pupils. In December there were 21 pupils in the evening grammar school, comprising grades corresponding to the seventh and eighth grades of the day elementary schools. There were 12 illiterate minors in elementary schools. There were 98 adult immigrants.

(4) THE SIZE OF CLASSES

The average number of pupils to a teacher in the grades reckoned in the customary basis, is at the present time 23. Last year at this time it was 23.4. In twelve of the buildings, the average is higher than 23 and in nine it is lower. Six of the grammar schools exceeded the average in the size of their classes. One hundred and sixty-eight rooms had thirty, or fewer pupils. Twenty-six classes had over thirty and less than forty-one. No room taught by one teacher had more than 40 pupils. One room taught by two teachers had less than forty pupils.

(5) PROGRESS THROUGH SCHOOL

In June 562 pupils were graduated from the high school, and 606 were graduated from the grammar schools.

Of these 606 grammar school graduates, 525 entered the high school in September.

In March 69 pupils were graduated from the Evening High School and 7 were awarded certificates of their completion of the Evening Grammar School course.

THE TORCH

Words by MARIE EILEEN McDONNELL

Music by RUTH ELIZABETH BURCKEL

A bold response, a saliant cry
We fling the somber, war torn world;
Our youth to brave the battle nigh
Our youth to frame a lasting peace.

Not ours in doubt to flee all care
And grope in vain for transient joys,
But ours to follow Freedom's flare
And take our places in the strife.

Our light shines through the dismal fray,
The glow of peace, of joy, and hope,
The gleaming herald of the day
That breaks from out the fading night.

In fear we shall not shun the light,
But turn, face forward, unafraid,
And with the strength of righteous might,
Shall rear, as youth, an age to come.

O God of Hosts, lift high our flame,
Make swift our strokes in battle dread,
Make keen and true our valiant aim
Till peace, through Thee, gains us our rest.

SINGING—"Star Spangled Banner"

Francis Scott Key

II. NUMERICAL

(1) BUILDINGS, CLASSROOMS AND TEACHERS

The work of the school had been carried on in twenty-two buildings. Two hundred and eighty-seven regular classrooms are in use. Eighty-two of these are in the High School, and 201 in the Elementary. At the present writing, (December, 1945) four hundred and forty-three teachers are employed. Of these, three hundred and ninety-two are employed in the day schools and fifty-one in the evening schools. Three day school teachers are also employed in the evening schools. There are seventy-three men teachers among the four hundred and nineteen teachers employed in the day schools.

(2) LENGTH OF THE SCHOOL YEAR

During the calendar year 1945 the schools were actually in session only 170 days. Eight school days fell upon legal holidays and eleven other holidays were granted by the vote of the Board. Eleven days were omitted because of stormy weather. Out of a year of forty weeks, the schools were actually in session 34 weeks.

(3) SCHOOL MEMBERSHIP AND ATTENDANCE

During 1945 there were 8,131 different children enrolled. The average membership for the year was 6,949.59 and the average attendance was 6,523.68. This is a decrease of 1,032 pupils from last year in the total enrollment.

One room taught by two teachers had less than forty pupils.

SINGING—Class Ode

Words by CHARLOTTE SCOTT KALIL

Music by PETER R. ATAMIAN

Classmates, dear Classmates,
Come, let us away,
The future is calling,
And none must delay.
Now from fond friendships
We sadly must part,
But treasured the mem'ries
Which dwell in each heart.

Loved school and teachers,
A grateful farewell.
Our debt for your guidance
No brief word can tell.
Precepts you've taught us
We'll try to obey.
This our pledge to you
On Commencement Day.

All life is calling
For valor and truth.
We bring it our valor,
We bring truth and youth.
God, give us courage
To fight for the right
And give us the wisdom
To seek now and ever
Thy unfailing light.

SINGING—"The Star Spangled Banner"

Francis Scott Key

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

TO THE LAWRENCE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

In compliance with your regulations, I submit the following as a report for the year 1946, being the one hundredth in the series of annual school reports.

JAMES F. HENNESSEY

Superintendent of Schools

1. HISTORICAL

This report is the one hundredth annual report of a Lawrence School Committee. It is fitting, therefore, that we look back briefly to our humble beginnings of a century ago. On April 17, 1847 the General Court and Governor of this Commonwealth finally approved legislation which incorporated the new town of Lawrence. The Act of Incorporation tells how certain territories on the banks of the Merrimack River, until then parts of Andover and Methuen, were to be included in the new industrial community springing up about the Great Dam, and how the new community was to reimburse the older towns for the public property it had acquired.

EARLY BEGINNINGS

At the first town meeting in 1847, the School Committee—James D. Herrick, Dr. William D. Lamb, and Daniel Wood—informed the citizens that they had five crude one-room schools, located on Tower Hill, Jackson Street, Hampshire Street, Prospect Street, and on the "Andover Side." This Committee and the community leaders immediately went to work to improve matters. At the invitation of Mr. Charles S. Storrow, then head of the Essex Company, Horace Mann, the first Commissioner of Education in Massachusetts, was brought to Lawrence to give advice and leadership in planning for the future. Horace Mann suggested the organization of primary, grammar, and high school—which organization we still keep today. He recommended the building of one new grammar school on the north side, another on the south side, and one high school for the entire town. The building program was begun early in the year 1848. Horace Mann is often called the father of the American Public School; he is, in a very definite sense, the father of the Lawrence Public School System.

In the discussions of that first year, one of the industrial leaders—the industries in the new town paid over 65% of the taxes—made this splendid statement for the record, “Let the schools be the best that can be made at any cost.” That spirit, I think, has been typical of our community at all times since. The very modest expenditures of those pioneers have been increased to annual budgets of well over a million dollars. The people and taxpayers have never been niggardly in providing money for our schools. It behooves all of us concerned with the government and conduct of the schools to work constantly that our “schools be the best that can be made.”

DENNIS E. CALLAHAN

Our more immediate chronicle concerns the year rather than the century just passed. In this year, the most outstanding event was the unexpected death of Dennis E. Callahan, Superintendent of Schools since 1937. Mr. Callahan, who had spent all his adult life in the service of the Lawrence schools as a teacher and administrator, died in July in a Boston Hospital where he was preparing for examinations and diagnosis. He gave to our schools an example of energetic action and concern for individual pupils and teachers which all of us may emulate. In a long line of illustrious Superintendents, Dennis E. Callahan made his distinctive contribution to our schools. All of us pray for eternal rest for his soul.

SALARIES

The year of 1946 brought two sizeable increases in our annual school expenditures. In the early months of the year, in accordance with a referendum at the previous city election, the School Committee took steps to equalize the salaries of men and women teachers with the same preparation and teaching in the same grade. This action removed the traditional differential that always has existed between the male and female teachers in our schools. Likewise, at the last meeting in December, the Committee voted varying increases in salaries to all employees of our department. This increase was prompted principally by the increased costs of living due to the current rising spiral of inflation in the economic world. Partly, it was prompted by the hope of ironing out some of the inequalities that created dissatisfaction in the past. It is hoped that future harmony may result from these salary adjustments. We can be glad that teachers' strikes, which plagued some cities this year, were never considered in this city. The devotion of our teachers and their high professional sense would probably make such an action impossible.

RETURN FROM THE SERVICE

The year 1946, with the war over, has seen also a return of those in service to their posts in the classrooms. Now, with the feeling of having contributed to the security of our country and our world, they should be more than ever an effective force in teaching the young those virtues of good citizenship and of sacrifice for which our schools always stand. As a result of action by a grateful community, we are happy to note that they return with all salary increments given them as if they had been continuously teaching and all pension deductions paid by the city, so that they will sustain no loss in their eventual retirement allowances.

PRE-PRIMARY CLASSES

With the opening this fall of the pre-primary class in the Bruce School, requests have come from parents in several other sections of the city to provide similar accommodations for their children. The best age for entering school and undertaking to learn to read has not yet been accurately and scientifically decided. The age of $5\frac{1}{2}$ years is probably about right. When we go much below it, however, we are in danger of having children who are too young trying the work of the first grade, and usually failing. Work in pre primary or kindergarten classes may help. Two cautions, however, should be borne in mind: 1. Pre-primary work should not be thought of as a "nursery school", 2. Pre-primary age children are not usually adapted for an all-day stay in the classroom. Pre-primary classes should be limited to those children of $4\frac{1}{2}$ years or slightly under and should be limited to a half-day session in the school. Wise teachers and parents will recognize that there is no substitute for a good mother and a good home in the life of the child of three or four. School work prior to first grade may help the child; but the Mother's love and the simplicity of the home can do more for him than any school in the land.

RADIO PROGRAM

December of this past year saw the beginning of a series of radio programs over WLAW called "Your School and Home". This program, staged by pupils, teachers, and executives, hopes to create an interest among parents in what goes on in the schools. In our city we have no Parent-Teacher Association. We hope that this program may serve as a substitute in building among parents that vitally necessary interest in the work of the classroom.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION

Early in the past fall we began the program of released time for Religious Education which was permitted by state legislation and directed by the School Committee. The program at present includes those pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grade whose parents make a written request for a dismissal for this purpose. In every case, the dismissal comes at 2:15 on Wednesday afternoon, for the last hour of the regular school session. Some 1500 children are going at that time each week to centers established by the Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish faiths. From the point of view of school administration the program is working smoothly. From reports that come from the religious leaders, they feel that the program is going to be very profitable for those participating, and they are enthusiastic about the results so far.

SIZE OF CLASSES

Like most school systems, Lawrence has felt a sharp drop in enrollment during the past ten or fifteen years. There are many causes for this decrease and most of them we can do nothing about. It is necessary for us, though, to take what steps we can to make adjustments in our schools, wherever possible without damage to educational results, so that the size of our teaching staff is in reasonable proportion to the enrollment. This year a large number of retirements and resignations has made possible several more consolidations of classes. The average number of pupils per teacher in the elementary classroom is up one and one-half over this time last year. Several times the number of pupils per teacher in this city has been the lowest in the entire state. It is a problem on which we have made progress, but we still must work at it. For several years now our School Committee and Superintendents have worked to combine in vacancies wherever it could be wisely done. We must continue to follow this policy for some time to come. Eventually we will have an average per teacher that will not be wasteful of city funds and will be educationally sound. That day, we hope, will not be too far distant.

Every review of history ought to teach us some ways we can improve our future. The citizens of Lawrence over a period of one hundred years have given generous support to our schools. Evidence of this generosity has been seen in the last several years. In reciprocity, I am sure that all of us hope in return to show greater efforts and better results in our everyday work of making good men and women.

SUPERVISORS' REPORTS

In comparison with most towns, our city is generous in providing means for good teaching and supervision in the special subjects. This year I have asked the teachers and supervisors in these branches to contribute to our report. Their thoughts follow:

ARITHMETIC

In the making of modern curricula the topics to be taught are selected mainly because they are socially useful to the pupils, in their immediate and prospective life needs.

The criterion of social utility has been carefully followed in the choice of materials in our Arithmetic Work, with the results that obsolete topics, artificial problems, and discarded business practices have all been excluded from the course. On the other hand several new topics ranking high in social utility have been included, closely related to interests of the pupils.

The application of arithmetic as found in business and industry, as well as those encountered in personal and civic life are presented in such a way as to make them real, useful and interesting.

We rank as very important ideals, or goals:

- (1) Speed and accuracy in the basic facts and fundamental operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division;
- (2) attention to neatness and form;
- (3) recognition and treatment of individual differences.

A wide variation of ability and special aptitudes exist among pupils in every grade. The teaching procedures are modified, so that testing, diagnosing, and remedial work can be given when and where needed, that every child may have a chance to improve and advance.

At the beginning of each school year, the preceding year's work is reviewed for the purpose of maintaining previous learning, and also to find out what the children need, before beginning the new work of the grade. The range of individual differences and the forgetting of previous learning make it necessary to provide constantly for maintenance and relearning.

To be effective in teaching and learning, subject matter should make the following contribution to the program of instruction:

- (1) Locate the point where a pupil has failed to attain mastery of a fundamental skill.
- (2) Direct the child's attention to the specific cause of his trouble and to desire self-improvement.
- (3) Assist the teacher in organizing her program of instruction to meet the needs of individual pupils.
- (4) Supply the pupil with materials which are keyed to his needs and scaled to his level of ability.
- (5) Provide available tests for measuring improvement.

Anna A. Murphy.

ART EDUCATION

The year's program in art education has been arranged under two main divisions:

1. Representation, or the making of realistic pictures. The subjects selected are within the familiar scope of the childrens' immediate interests related to the activities of the school, the curriculum, the home, the various holiday seasons.

When things are interesting enough to draw, the child begins to use, under guidance, three conscious acts of the mind: Observation, Memory, and Imagination. To draw an object or to make a picture the child has to gradually learn to look and remember; then put down. Imagination comes into action when new ideas are created in a different way.

The children learn to make pictures in good composition in crayon, in water colors or tempora paint throughout all the grades including the High School.

2. The second division is that of Design, and it covers an unlimited field. The children learn that ORDER is the first and foremost law of the universe. Under this topic the children learn the organization of various forms of design and have some experience in various mediums such as crayons, water colors, constructive design and paper sculpture. In the High School the classes work in many crafts from the design standpoint, including poster design, clay modelling, block printing on paper or textures, textile painting, finger painting, wood craft and bookbinding.

Gone are the days when the step by step, adult, thought-out problems were in vogue. The main aim of the art education program today is to train children, through the use of the hands and the mind to learn to THINK, to INVENT, to make critical judgements.

Winifred C. Barry.

HANDWRITING

Handwriting is an integral part of the school program, and the same basic principles apply to teaching handwriting that hold in other learning situations. One of the fundamental principles is that the pupil learns most efficiently when his interest is aroused and when he sees the need for learning, so that he wants to learn, and becomes an active cooperator in the learning process. The tool subjects which involve much practice are the hardest to motivate and handwriting is probably the most difficult of all. For efficient learning the pupil must realize that there is an immediate as well as future need for legible writing.

Besides this realization of the need of making handwriting functional and meaningful, probably the greatest change in the modern concept of teaching handwriting is the shift in emphasis from perfection to usefulness. We want the pupil to be able to write legibly and with reasonable speed rather than to produce uniform "copper plate" writing. He must be grounded in the fundamental processes and in certain standard skills of slant, size, and alignment, in order that his writing may be legible. Beyond that, he may and should be encouraged to develop his own individual style for the dual purpose of self-expression and of communication.

Handwriting is a social skill; in fact, English and Handwriting are our most important social skills. They are needed by all individuals for both social and occupational competency.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics is taught in the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades. The department is divided in two parts:

A. SEWING taught in 4th, 5th, 6th grades.

B. COOKING taught in 7th and 8th grades.

The fundamentals of sewing are stressed. In the 4th grade a sewing bag is the first project and this covers the simple stitches plus a little embroidery. A cross apron follows or a plain apron of some sort. The 5th grade work begins with a slip, in order to review the 4th grade work. Pyjamas or a Nightgown, which are more complicated, is the second project. Upon completion of either of these two, a third project is often made at the teachers' discretion. In the first two years of sewing, hand work is only employed. The 6th grade girls cut out their cooking outfits and sew partly by hand and partly on the sewing machine. The Cooking Outfit, now a standardized affair, consists of an Apron, Cap, and two Potholders. Some of the class then make a dress for themselves or if the time is limited are advised by the instructor as to what to make. At the completion of the course the girls should be able to make simple clothes for themselves, their younger sisters or brothers and to take care of their own wardrobe.

Cooking or rather Learning to Cook is an adventure. At some time or other every girl needs to be able to prepare a meal. If a student applies herself she will have a good foundation in Housekeeping, Correct Ways of Measuring, Proper Cleaning Methods. She will learn Nutrition, mainly thru classroom discussions after each lesson and in preparing Notebooks for Visual Nutrition. Thrift in regard to purchasing of Food, Table Etiquette, and Table Service are also stressed. Invalid Cookery is touched upon, too.

We have this motto in mind—

“Success is not equalling or excelling someone else,
But coming up to the level of your best.”

We do endeavor to do just that in our Sewing and Cooking Department.

Dorothy M. Donahue

MANUAL TRAINING

Manual training, defined simply, is hand training. However, hand-training is not our main objective. All education tends toward making the student a good citizen. By using wood as a medium, we strive to develop habits necessary to good citizenship.

Our time allotment in the seventh and eighth grades is two hours per week. All the work in the course is as practical as possible. In the seventh grade the projects are graded but some freedom is allowed. The pupils are taught processes, tool manipulation, and skills.

In the eighth grade a boy is given more freedom after he has completed several of the required projects. The pupil in this grade usually begins to take an interest in the plan by which a definite piece of work may be accomplished successfully. He will begin to compare results and to estimate values. He will have an interest in the materials with which he works, their source, commercial value, and in conserving his materials by careful planning and good workmanship. Plans are made to scale before a pupil starts a new project. A course in home repairs is also taught. At all times we correlate our work with other subjects in the school curriculum, such as drawing and arithmetic.

It is the aim of our department to teach boys how to think, how to work, and how to act.

William J. Durgin

MUSIC

The value of music in the schools should be measured by what degree it attains the objective of all education—namely to assist children in the attainment of right judgment, appreciation, and control of social values. It is generally recognized that music serves as a means of intergrating the child's personality through a rich variety of musical experience. To this end we have offered this year, as we have for many years, opportunities for musical activities in the grades and the High School.

In the grades, we have sight reading, in which children acquire a knowledge of fine song material. In addition, we have rhythm bands, orchestras, and glee clubs. We have a special Glee Club and Orchestra whose members are selected from the best in the Grammar Schools. We have a limited number of school-owned instruments, which are loaned to those who desire to learn to play on them. We also have instrumental classes every Saturday morning at the High School to teach the children how to play these instruments at a very modest fee.

In the High School, we have classes in Choral Music, Music Appreciation, and Harmony. In the way of applied music, we have a Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club, and Instrumental Ensembles. Every year students studying music have an opportunity to attend a performance of the Metropolitan Opera Company, when it comes to Boston. Each year both the Grammar School musical groups and the High School groups take part in the State and New England Conclaves of Bands, Orchestras, and Glee Clubs. We believe we offer to our boys and girls in schools of Lawrence many opportunities to make their lives richer by participation in music.

Robert E. Sault

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The teachers in the physical education department of the public schools meet each pupil, excepting those excused by physicians because of physical defects, at least once and, in most cases twice, each week for instruction. First and second year high school students at the main building have two gymnasium periods and members of the third and fourth year classes have three. Most pupils in the Freshman group are located at the Oliver School and are not included in the regular gymnastic program, but have, instead, Junior Red Cross first aid and health instruction two periods every week.

The program content varies with the age and abilities of the child. The work conducted in the first and second grade is of an informal nature. For these very young people, a program consisting of Story Plays, Rhythmical Activities, Hunting Games and Mimetics is given. The importance of good posture is stressed as it is all during their school lives.

In the third grade, formal work begins. Organized games, folk dancing, simple marching and calisthenics are added to the activities of the first two years. Later, highly organized games, relay races, stunts, hand apparatus (wands), athletics, formal marching and calisthenics, advanced folk dancing and practical first aid are included.

Correcting physical defects through exercise is an important part of the instructors' duties. The pupils needing special attention have corrective classes supplementary to their regular work.

The facilities at the high school allow for much more diversified activities than are possible in the grade schools. Tumbling, heavy apparatus work, tap, soft shoe and ball-room dancing are a few of these. After school programs of basketball, bowling, and baseball are very popular with the secondary school boys and girls.

A 4A Audiometer machine is used to test the hearing of high school Freshmen. They are given, also, the Massachusetts Vision Test. These examinations are vastly superior to the old fashioned methods, and it is hoped that they will be made available to all pupils in the near future.

Demonstrations of the work that is being done in the high school gymnasium classes are planned for April, 1947. A similar program planned for grade school pupils may have to be postponed, because of lack of equipment, until 1948.

Physical education has an important place in the development of school children and should be given the opportunity to do its part.

Albert V. Regan

PRIMARY GRADES

A group intelligence test at the beginning period of school life is extremely useful in helping the teacher classify a new group of children about whose abilities practically nothing is known. In one sense this is a most crucial period of a child's life, because his first year in school may determine his attitudes toward school in general and habits of industry or idleness are readily acquired. A teacher can use the results scientifically and with profit for her class. It is her responsibility to interpret them intelligently for two reasons:

1. To adjust teaching to abilities within the group.
2. To hold each child to his capacity.

There is a place for every individual, he is happier when most successful.

During the fall term Intelligence Tests were given in the first and third grades. There were many subtests in both batteries so that abilities in many areas were measured.

The First Grade Test was given in the spirit of a game and young children appeared very much interested in it.

For diagnostic purposes standardized achievement tests in the two basic subjects of instruction, Reading and Arithmetic, were given in the second and third grades. An accumulated record of each child's achievement is kept.

Katherine T. McMahon

READING AND LITERATURE

The purpose of any Literature course is to turn out good readers. The cultivation of a taste for and an interest in good literature is and must remain the dominant aim in learning to read and the teaching of reading.

In our schools today, reading has become a happy and meaningful activity. We strive to have reading serve these purposes: to enable the child to obtain information which he needs to understand himself and the world around him; to provide a joyous leisure activity—increasing and broadening his interests; to serve the important function “of escape”—enabling him to enter other worlds of imagination, humor, and fancy.

In our Poetry we stress extensive reading and interest in poems—rather than intensive study and memorization of a few poems. Poetry, as contrasted to Prose, is a form of literature which merits especial consideration. Literature written in this form is probably more beautiful than it would have been had it been written in prose, but this fact makes all the more difficult the teacher's guiding her pupils in their reading of the literature. Appreciation and the love of good poetry are the chief aims of teaching poetry. All of our poetry is read aloud—for much of its beauty lies in rhythm. We endeavor to make our pupils familiar with the fact that poetry as Louis Untermeyer points out “Not only sings songs, but paints pictures, tells stories, describes characters, makes you laugh, and carries you to far away lands”.

SINGING—Class Ode

Words by William Russell LaCroixMusic by Robert Matthew Lacey

As fades the beauty of the verdant vine
That burdened with its clusters earthward bends,
As fly the robins from the prickly pine,
So past the faces of my school-day friends.

The laughing water rippling in the lea,
The stream reflecting the image of a flower,
These both exist for an eternity.
But youth is limited by day and hour.

We pass, and only memories remain:
The bustling in the corridors at morn,
The clamor of the schoolbell's loud refrain,
Stone Caesar gazing on us all in scorn,

The hum of study as we downward pored
On books, a footstep, echoing in the hall,
A foreign language on the dusty board,
The feeling of security in all.

We pause and take a final loving note
Of friends and souls' ambitions ere we part,
A wordless sense of feeling in the throat,
The knowledge of a loss within the heart.

SINGING—“The Star Spangled Banner” . Francis Scott Key
